Report of the Secretary of the Association.

To the Association :

The year just concluded must always be memorable in the history of this Association as having witnessed the final completion, furnishing and full occupation of the east wing of the "Home." While we have no right to be vain glorious, yet all friends of this Institution, indeed all charitable and humane people, cannot but rejoice at this fortunate result of efforts and contributions which have impoverished no one and have notably enriched this community with a useful and enduring medium for the distribution of God's gifts of charity to the child of want and misery, while furnishing at the same time, most creditable and substantial testimony to the generous and liberal impulses of our people.

The cost of this addition to our building, which has been about $30,000, has been nearly all defrayed. The small remnant of indebtedness which remains, about $3,200, is so easily within our resources to remove, that it ought not to remain for another year. The only danger to be apprehended is that it is so small that it will not be deemed worthy of the effort to clear it.

The best evidence of the need of this addition to the capacities of our Home, is in the fact that it is already fully occupied and utilized. This is probably due in some measure to the requirements of the public authorities who have found our "Home" to be a most useful auxiliary in providing for poor children who have become a public charge. It is several years since the County abandoned the practice of providing for poor children at the County Institutions, and entered on the system of boarding them at orphan and kindred asylums. Until August, 1876, this Institution had never been applied to, as it had never sought, to do any part of this public work. At that time, however, a temporary misunderstanding having arisen between the County Commissioners and a sister institution in the Western District, which had previously taken a large number of these children, we were requested to receive them. To have refused this request would have been both embarrassing to the public authorities, and inconsiderate towards the helpless children, and therefore opposed to the principles of our existence. Experience had shown that the practice of maintaining children at the County Almshouse—was more costly to the County, and far less beneficial to the child than the method of boarding them at respectable private asylums at the County expense. Our Home was such an agency as the law recognized for that purpose, and it seemed to be clearly our duty, when called upon, to respond to the call with promptness, especially as it appeared just at that time that ours was perhaps the only institution under Protestant influences in this large section of the City, which was acceptable to the public authorities. For the past three years, therefore, the work of the Institution has largely consisted in boarding the "County Wards." No distinction is made in the manner of their treatment. They are tended with the same care and instructed, and taught, and provided with homes the same as other children who do not come to us through the hands of the Charity Commissioners.

It must not however be supposed that this is all of our work. The small stipend received from the County for the support of its wards, is closely calculated to cover merely the cost of their support, lodging, clothing, education and medical attendance. Our own work of directly seeking out and receiving helpless, abandoned and unfortunate children is carried on with the same zeal and efficiency as ever. Of the whole number of inmates in the Home, October 1, 1879, 53 were children coming to us directly and not through the Charity Commissioners, and supported not at the County expense, but wholly by private and solicited gifts.

It has been thought proper to make this statement in our Annual Report, as an answer to certain objections which have been made that the character of our work has changed. Let it be understood that the contributions of friends are as necessary and as sacredly devoted as ever to the relief of distressed childhood, surrounding it here with the influences of a pure and happy home and school, and transplanting it as soon as practicable to good private homes which are opening to it on all hands. This work grows and extends with the means supplied, and the good gifts of the charitably disposed are needed not less but more and more.

Our Institution, owing to its connection with public work as before stated, has come under the visitation of the Local Visiting Committee for Kings County Public Institutions, and it is pleasing to remark that it has received their favorable notice. We quote from their last Annual Report—in justice to the ladies who are directly responsible for the management of our Home and as a matter of information to the public whose alms it is our privilege to dispense :

“The Industrial Home, in South Third street, E. D., has been established twenty-five years, and has been very successful in its work of charity. It has a board of nine male trustees and sixty female managers, chosen from among the most influential class of society in that district. Their combined wisdom and benevolence have placed the “Home” upon a sure and permanent basis, and made it a comfortable shelter and a valuable training-school for the poor little waifs consigned to its care. They have sought to mould this Home after other homes where affection reigns. The building was found to be too limited in its accommodations, and a year since a fund of six thousand dollars was raised for its enlargement.* The old building is to form the centre of the new structure, with wings on either sides. The superintendent exhibited every part of the building, making a special point of the ventilating apparatus (so important in every home), which seemed to be perfect, ensuring the outlet of the vitiated air and a constant inflow from the pure, fresh atmosphere without. There have been received during the past year two hundred and one (201) children. At present there are one hundred and twenty-seven, forty of whom are county wards, for whom twenty-five cents per day is received. Eighteen have been placed in homes, as it is their wise policy to retain the children only until they can provide for them a domestic home where they can be taught habits of industry. (It is the custom of the managers to visit the families of the little ones and to make their influence and humanity felt there. They have always found that their abject condition was self-induced—the natural consequence of indolence and intemperance).

“The ages of the county wards range from two and one-half to seven years of age. Some of them are interesting little children.

“We wish that more of our county wards might be placed under such auspices. What a boon it is to them to be taken out of the streets where intemperate and cruel parents often drive them, half-starved and half-clad, out of places miscalled homes, where kind words and tender care were unknown, and brought within the shelter of such an asylum, where a true Christian woman’s heart presides to consider their comfort, to alleviate their sickness, to develop that sportiveness which cruelty had almost extinguished, to teach them to say “Our Father,” and to awaken in their moral sense some idea of right and truth! Homes have been found for four county wards, three belonging to one family. They are all placed in good homes, and with the consent of the mother. A letter had just been received from a boy who had been placed in a home last year. The father of the boy was a drunkard, and had taken “Willie” with him into liquor saloons, from whence the child had been carried out perfectly stupid from the effects of liquor! The father refused to allow the boy to be sent from the Home to a family, and said he would take the boy out of the Home, as he was “good company;” but they took him to a gentleman who lives some two hours’ ride from the city, and stated the case to him, that, if the boy staid in the city, his ruin was pretty certain, but it was believed that, with kind, firm government, the boy might be saved. He kept Willie, and writes that he is in all respects a great help, truthful and honest, had made good progress in school, and does not wish to return to his home. So, perhaps, one more little life has been given a better chance for successful living.”

Our monthly reports for the past year abound as usual with interesting instances of relief. In November last, the children of an intemperate father were sent to our Home by a Justice. The father felt the loss of his children’s society so keenly that he went to the Justice, signed the pledge, found employment and took his children home. We have reason to believe that the parent was permanently benefitted in this instance equally with the children. In the same month a letter was received at the Home from a former inmate, who came to us so ignorant that she could not read and write, and with the marks of cruel treatment on her little shoulders. She remained here for six months and was then placed in a home, where she is comfortable and happy, as her letter proved.

During the past winter there came to us three children whose father was helpless from paralysis, and whose mother could no longer obtain work enough to support them—two little boys whose father had been dead for some years and whose mother was dying of consumption—three other little ones, whose mother had recently died, leaving them with a little babe a few months old to the care of a father, a laboring man, who could not provide for them—one child three years old who was found shut up in a room alone where she had been left uncared for by an intemperate father—besides a number of little ones whose parents were unable or had neglected to provide for them through intemperance, or poverty, or misfortune. They generally come in a wretched plight as to clothing, cleanliness and physical condition, as little as possible like the clean, round-faced, well-clothed, healthy girls and boys whom our managers set before us at our annual exhibitions. Indeed, a fair exhibition of the work accomplished by our managers could only be made by putting in comparison side by side the children as they are when brought to the Home, squalid, ill-clad, hungry and every way wretched and as they appear in the school or on the platform, after they have been for some time under its renovating influence. Such an exhibition would speak more eloquently than volumes of reports or public addresses.

For the details of the affairs of the Institution, its statistics of inmates received, moneys collected and expended, reference is made to the thorough report of the Board of Managers through their Secretary and to the financial statement of the Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. FISHER, Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Recording Secretary of the Board of Managers.

We are encouraged to notice, that this Institution, whose achievements we discuss has rounded out its full quarter of a century under very flattering auspices. The struggles and fears that beset us have been overcome, our commodious building is completed and well-nigh paid for, every cot is filled with happy children, and to-day we can but exclaim! "If God be for us, who can be against us."

As in years past our mission is to protect homeless children between the ages of two and a half and ten years. We receive a trifling allowance for board and clothing when the parent or guardian is able, or when received from the Commissioners of Charity, others we wholly support, each case being investigated by competent persons before aid is extended. Our experience justifies us in saying, that no pen can fitly describe, and few persons can realize the utter misery and wretchedness that may be found just here in our midst. Intemperance is nursed, crime is cradled, vice is emboldened, and as a result, want and suffering are on every hand. Where is the remedy, if not in rescuing the children.

We believe that united effort, "instant in season and out of season," with lessons of honesty, purity, temperance and industry, will be powerful in effect to save our boys, to protect our girls, to fortify them in the hour of temptation, to lessen our criminal record, to decrease our taxation, and withal to secure happiness and salvation to many souls.

Miss E. T. Whittlesey, whose efficiency in former years has demonstrated her peculiar fitness for this responsible position, still has the supervision of the Home and school, ably assisted by a corps of willing workers. She presents this tabular statement, which by comparison with former reports reveals the increased scope of our benevolence :

The work of the "Home" is under the care of the following committees :

The EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE meet every Friday at the Home, 141 South Third Street, at 3 P.M. They confer with persons desirous of adopting children, examine the quality and quantity of food served, have charge of the management of the Home, and are responsible for its expenditures. They receive applications for admission and listen to many recitals of sorrow and trouble, and not unfrequently are confronted by impertinent demands. At times it requires more than earthly wisdom to decide how and when to relieve and comfort.

The VISITING COMMITTEE have visited fifty-seven families connected with our school, and in most instances sickness prevailed.

We are pained that our limited supply prevents our administering temporary relief, where we know is sorest need, where persons seem crushed "Neath poverty's weight." Yet this class falls more especially under the care of other benevolent societies, to whom we extend our most cordial support and sympathy. At the same time may we advise the expediency of conferring more with each other to defeat "repeaters" and imposters. We often find that those who "dress to the situation" are being helped by many. Theoretically, it may be an easy matter to give wisely, but practically it is a most difficult problem, for pity is implanted in every human heart, and to arouse it, needs only the woe-begone look, the dismal tale, the scanty garment, evidences of biting poverty.

It is a humbling thought that imposters in this city have been incalculably fostered by negligent almsgiving. We offer our protest against "door relief," and street charity, and insist that with a gift, it is a duty to see that it supplies comfort and does not promote drunkenness, hence we urge the wisdom of an organization which will give its labor to utilize the alms of those who have given in love, (if not with the needed self-sacrifice) and thus prevent charity from becoming a bane, instead of a blessing. "Every prudent man acts with sense," even in his charities. Come and examine our work.

This Institution is open every Tuesday to the public, and will never be closed against those who cannot avail themselves of the regular visiting day.

The WORK COMMITTEE have been faithful to their trust, as will be seen by their report :

The DISTRIBUTING COMMITTEE have assigned to the Home children 1,195 garments and 455 pairs of shoes; to outside poor 480 garments and 78 pairs of shoes; to the nursery and dormitories, 539 articles of use.

The Nursery contains fourteen babies. Their little insufficiently fed bodies testify their need and are enough to move the stoutest heart. Many of these have been robbed of a parent's love either by drink, insanity, or death. One of the chief objects of this Association has ever been to secure good homes for the babies: One man begged us "to take my children in, their mother is given up to drink, and she is even now teaching my six year old boy to pick pockets—help me save him."

Shall the boys and girls be kept from ruin?

Will christians and kind hearted people, surrounded by every comfort except that of children, decide this question and remove one or more from this over-crowded city into the fresh air of the country. We may not expect to fill the places of "loved ones gone," all may not draw prizes in their selections, but you are certainly aiding the Master in his plans for his own poor, and perhaps you will be the direct means of saving a soul.

Of the many applications received, one particularly deserves notice. "We want to adopt a little girl, it matters not what her ancestry is, the worse the child, the more will we strive for her good." Is not here the true principle of charity?—love.

We will only add that a little girl was transplanted to a magnificent home, that had been childless for many years, but is now filled with sunshine diffused by this fortunate child.

Our Corresponding Secretary states that in the past year five children have been surrendered to this Association. Nine have been placed in homes for adoption, five have been indentured. This Institution knows no sect, creed or nationality, poverty is the only pass-port required. Children have been received from all parts of the city, a few from the Western District, several from Greenpoint.

Most satisfactory information has been received from the adopted children and their foster parents. These letters come from homes of luxury and wealth, from rural scenes and the peaceful industries of farm life, from the busy workshop, and the enterprising merchant. They come from homes desolated by the death of loved-ones where the bereaved have endeavored to fill the void, by taking our needy ones to their embrace. As we consider these comforts dispensed, shall we not bind a fresh chaplet around the self sacrificing brow of these foster-parents.

Sickness has prevailed much of the year. Dr. Schapps and Dr. Wheeler have been untiring in their efforts to relieve distress. The Managers appreciate fully their skillful and gratuitous services rendered. We insert their report.

To the Managers of the Home of the Industrial School.

From the report of Dr. Wheeler Resident Physician, it will be seen that the children in the Home have suffered during the year mainly from Measles and Conjunctivitis.

Those who had never before been vaccinated, have been, and every precaution taken to prevent the introduction and spread of contagious disease.

Five deaths have occurred. One by Inflammatory Croup, two by Pneumonia, one by Cholera Infantum and one by Gangrene. All these, with one exception, were under two years old.

The experience of the year teaches the importance of a Resident Physician who may be called at any time and give prompt attention at the beginning of illness.

Very respectfully,

C. H. SCHAPPS, M. D.,

Consulting Physician.

Brooklyn, October 1, 1879.

Dr. Harreys has bestowed valuable dental service for which the Managers are truly grateful.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—The former plan of admitting to our Home school those children whose scanty clothing debarred them from the public school was attended with wonderful success in sweeping in, and placing under humanizing influence the little outcasts of the gutter. This plan was interrupted for want of room during our building, and for well-considered reasons has just been resumed. The poorest of the poor will be welcomed and supplied with dinner and clothing. Miss Whittelsey, with an able assistant, has charge of the school. All obstacles to progress having been removed, the transition being over, we look for marked advancement, in their studies, and as this school belongs to the popular public schools of Brooklyn, we expect to rank favorably with those of the same grade. Poverty does not always bedim intellect. We have also furnished dinner to the lads in the Truant School, thus far, without compensation save the consciousness of their hunger. Who can tell how deeply this act of kindness to these early sinners may take root and bear good fruit? We are glad to aid any vagrant boy or girl.

SEWING COMMITTEE, with Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Frederick and Miss L. Smith have met their classes regularly during the greater part of the year, and have performed a good service, and to the ladies in charge we are under obligations. Besides teaching sewing, they have impressed lessons of truthfulness, order and cleanliness. From the hour a child enters the home, efforts are made to produce a true home-feeling, to make all useful and self-helpful, to develop their "common sense" and to instruct them practically in the duties, to which their lives will be largely devoted. Responsibility in small matters is imposed by requiring the larger children to care for the dining-room table, dusting, washing dishes, scrubbing floors, making beds neatly, doing errands, etc.

We realize the importance of good thrifty habits early formed, yet we are compelled to say that the standard of efficiency has not been so high as we could have wished; the chief hindrance being the tender age and low physical condition of the children, suggesting that play and food are their direst needs.

As we attempt to voice our thanks to those who have shared our burdens the past year, we recall kindnesses from the rich and poor, the aged and the youth, from the butchers, bakers, the "New York Fishmongers Association," the plumbers, painters and trade-men. Ministers, lawyers and physicians have proffered services in time of need. The Brooklyn Daily Times has stoutly advanced our cause.

Mr. Douglass of the Sea Side Home, kindly entertained 100 children for one week at Coney Island. Mr. A. Daggett provided a pass to convey them to Brighton Beach for a day's sport. Old ladies have knitted and repaired stockings and quilted coverings. Several young ladies held a fair in our behalf. Masters Falkenrecht, Lonsdale, Whormby, Allen and Black rallied their friends for an hour's enjoyment, and donated its proceeds here. The "Apron Sale," proved a financial success, besides gathering in very many warm friends of this Institution.

The ALMONER by the patronage of the business men of New York and Brooklyn, netted us $1,030 02. We earnestly hope that by giving this timely aid all who used our columns poured dollars into their own coffers.

Thanksgiving and Christmas festivities were remembered by a bountiful supply of good things and were enjoyed by all the children.

The reception on Washington's Birthday was a time of general rejoicing over the completion of the building, and will long be remembered. Mrs. Dr. Jones delivered a very instructive course of Medical Lectures, and illustrated her themes by charts and manikin, with deserved commendation. Mrs. Sangster yielded to our persuasions, and read her delightful essay on "Some Famous Sitting Rooms," and imparted pleasure with intellectual profit to a large and appreciative audience.

To all these friends and to the many unnamed, we are sincerely grateful.

The record is made and will be everlasting.

Another year with its imperative demands is begun, compelling us to pursue the work with unflagging industry.

St. Augustine says: "That which thou treasurest up is lost; that which thou charitably bestowest is truly thine." Will every one give as he is able, and remember there is no absorbing machinery here in dispensing alms. Shall not a word to the wise and liberal be sufficient. Surely it is enough for all to know that in this boasted city of Brooklyn, there exists actual suffering from want and starvation; how much the poor alone can tell.

MARIA UPTON HANFORD.

JOHN BROACH, Treasurer.

As we are a very practical people, and particularly practical in our charities, we have thought it advisable to append a detailed list of our present needs:

First—we need money to remove the debt of $3,000 on the wing; we want young misses to teach the smaller children plays; we want young ladies and gentlemen to assist in a service of song on the Sabbath, that it may not be a long weary day to the inmates; we invite Sunday School teachers to urge their pupils to lay aside a penny per day, week or month, to pay the board of one or more children. The following articles are continually needed:

GROCERIES.—Teas, coffees, sugar, hominy indian-meal, flour, salt, starch, syrup, soap, spices, mustard, salt-fish, salt pork, pickles, vinegar, beans, pepper, candles, etc.

VEGETABLES —Potatoes, turnips, onions, cabbage, beets, carrots, etc.

DRUGS.—Cod liver oil, castor oil, rhubarb, paregoric, laudanum, alcohol, adhesive plasters, camphor, lint, court plaster, salve, Pond's extracts, etc.

DRY GOODS.—Flannels, muslin, calicoes, woollen goods, Kentucky jean, towels, cotton goods, table cloths, handkerchiefs, stockings, bed covers, cotton batting, boys and girls hats, hooks and eyes, suspenders, buttons, pins, needles, thread, cotton, sewing silk, shoe strings, braid, tape, scissors, thimbles, combs, brushes, iron holders, old linen, scrub cloth, etc.

HOUSE FURNISHING.—Door mats, lanterns, candle sticks, brooms, grid irons, sad irons, brushes, pails, crockery, clothes pins, tin cups, clothes lines, wash boards, Mangle's clothes horse, towel racks, water pails, bedstead, bureau, carpet, mattress, wash stand for one room. Meats of all kinds, new and second hand clothing, fruits, etc.

Collections, through Managers, from the Various Churches.

We would gladly acknowledge all the gifts so various and beautiful contributed to the Apron Sale, and also on Christmas. Many packages came with no name attached, and hence our list is necessarily incomplete. We will add that about 1700 bags, well filled with useful and needed articles, were received, and we assure the contributors that the children had the full benefit of the contents.
